PARTICIPATION IN RESEARCH PROJECTS

From 1/03/2024 - ongoing: Research activities in the context of the project

EU Space Policy: What Contribution to European Integration in the Field of Security and Defence?

Funded by the Centre for Studies on Federalism (CSF)

The project intends to investigate the regulatory framework of space policy and its interactions with the defence and security sectors in order to identify the potential contribution of the Union’s space policy to greater integration in the latter sphere.

09/01/2023 - 31/01/2024: Research activities in the context of the project

EU Funding Mechanisms for the Defence Sector: A Decisive Contribution To Achieving Strategic Autonomy?

Funded by the Centre for Studies on Federalism (CSF)

The project aims to provide a legal analysis of EU instruments for financing security and defence initiatives. This investigation reconstructs the interactions between the different Union policies relevant to defence financing, thus enabling an overall assessment of the appropriateness of these instruments for achieving the EU’s strategic autonomy.

Co-funded by the Analysis and Planning Unit of the General Secretariat of the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation and the Italian Society for International Organisation (SIOI)

The project, set up within the framework of the Italian Society for International Organisation, consists of a research observatory on the initiatives and acts adopted by international organisations, whose editorial board is composed of lecturers and doctoral researchers from eight universities.

Participating Universities: University of Teramo, University of Bari A. Moro, University of Turin, University of Trento, University of Naples 'Luigi Vanvitelli', University of Salerno, University of Messina, Institute of Social Sciences of Belgrade.

07/09/2020 - 15/12/2020: Research Assistant in the context of the project

Covid-19 as an Inequality Challenge: Testing the EU Response

Financed by the Collegio Carlo Alberto Foundation

Principal Investigators: Prof. Camilla Borgna; Prof. Francesco Costamagna; Dr. Virginia Passalacqua

The project aims to analyse, from a legal and socio-political perspective, the European Union’s response to the social challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Specifically, the project examines the position of migrants and ethnic minorities in the face of the health crisis, with particular emphasis on third-country national seasonal workers, thereby assessing the impact of EU law on related inequalities and social hardship.

Lorenzo Grossio - Curriculum vitae

Particular attention is also paid to the effects of any limitations for third-country nationals on access to social benefits related to the health crisis.

08/01/2018 - 31/07/2018: Research activities in the context of the project

MIREL: Mining and REasoning with Legal texts

Co-funded by the European Union's Horizon 2020 Research and Innovation Programme (Marie Skłodowska Curie Grant agreement no. 690974).

Research project carried out within the framework of the Erasmus Mundus Joint International Doctoral (Ph.D.) Programme in Law, Science and Technology, which focused on the analysis of the transposition of EU directives by the Member States, with the aim of identifying and analysing lexical similarities between the texts. On the basis of this examination, the research consortium was able to realise a dedicated software, potentially able to support the European Commission's monitoring activity of the correct transposition of directives into national law.

As part of the project, the undersigned conducted an analysis of a selected corpus of EU directives, comparing them with the respective Irish (English language) and French (French language) transposition legislation. These operations were carried out by means of the software developed as part of the project. The work was carried out under the supervision of Dr. Rohan Nanda (Department of Informatics, University of Turin) and Prof. Francesco Costamagna (Department of Law, University of Turin).
